JOE EMERICK PLAYS OWN VIOLIN

On May 31, 68-year-old Joe Emerick of Carbondale took his home made violin over to his neighbor's home to play on it to honor its birthday. The violin had been completed a year ago on that date and is probably the only one date and is probably the only one in Canada that has a back made of ebony. The top of the violin is carved from an orange box. Joe carved out the entire instrument, including the neck, in his spare time, as a hobby.

Raised in Youngstown, Ohio Joe recalled travelling across the United States in 1908 with a circus, he played in the brass band. He homesteaded south of Lake Wabamun where he specialized in growing cucumbers. He has been an organist at the Jasper Mission in Edmonton and has given music lessons at Carbondale. His fiagers are gnarled from years of work in coal mines and at present he is employed at Carbondale Collier-employed at Carbondale Collicries.

The rich mellow tune of the violin was clearly brought out as he played his first number "Blue Danube." During the evening Joe played the piano too, and listeners strew that there had been years of training and work at music in Joe's life. After several classical selections Joe played a few pol-kas and livelier music. All who were present praised the tonal oralities of this home made violin. Joe is making a guitar now in his spare time.

Response Cool to FUA Delegation to Ottawa

The Central Executive of the F.U.A. met in Edmonton last week. All members were present. Mr. J. E. Phelps, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, also attended the meeting.

The question of sending a mass delegation of farmers from the three Prairie Provinces to Ottawa to press the demand for a revision of wheat prices was considered at or wheat prices was considered at some length. In returns received from various locals in these pro-vinces, so far the majority favor such a course.

However in view of the fact that the majority of locals have that the majority of locals have not been heard from so far, and that such a delegation would take considerable time to or-ganize and that to be effective, it would have to visit Ottawa before Parliament prorogues, it was decided that a mass delega-tion should not be sent at pre-

The miles are now housed in the stacks of the new Rutherford Library on the University campus, and include copies of Builetins published from 1895 to 1951. Previous editions of the paper were microfilmed about 18 months ago by the Canadian Library Association, which at that time decided too, which at that time decided tion, which at that time determined to record photographically western newspapers of great historical

The oldest and frailest editions The oldest and frailest editions of various western newspapers were filmed, including the Buletin, the old Lethbridge News, the Macleod Gazette, and the Calgary Eye-Opener.

Though yellowed with age, most of the Bulletin files are in good condition, but some of the older and more brittie copies will have to be specially treated and rebound to preserve them and allow their use by students. This priceless history of the Canadian northwest is included in 470 bound files of old Bulletins, filling about 90 shelves of the Rutherford truckload of material.

Library and comprising just one truckload of material.

In addition to their value to students, the newspaper files are fascinating casual reading, not only of western Canadian events of the past, but of world-wide news of the past half century.

A Half Century Of the Air Age

Flight of a lone pilot across Alberta last week enroute non-stop to New York from Norway via the north pole is something of a feat when we bear in mind that less than 50 years have elapsed since that eventful day at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, when the Wright brothers made four successful flights in their bi-plane.

Accomplishments of aviation today may lead us to think a spectacular and revolutionary event has taken place. Actually, the growth of aviation has been slow and steady.
Alberta, we may add, has always been in the front ranks of aerial progress. Since the early days of the bush-pilots Alberta has been aviation conscious.

aviation conscious.

Fine civilian airports are maintained here today and some of the nation's biggest military airfields are in Alberta.

The record since 1903 reveals a slow and steady development. This will probably hold true for the future but none of us now living can accurately predict, or possibly imagine, what the next 50 years will bring in the development of aerial travel.

Farm Vote Important

The Calgary Albertan points out in an editorial that although half of the population editorial that although half of the population of the Province resides on farms, only 12 of the 57 members of the Legislature are farmers. The disparity on the farmer representation is obvious to everyone.

Farmers, who comprise roughly 90 % of the population of the Grouard Constituency, have an opportunity to right this situation insofar as they are concerned. One of the three candidates, a Liberal, is a farmer of the district. His two opponents, a Social Crediter and a CCF candidate are not farmers. farmers

As the Albertan points out, the farmers of Alberta are fully competent and rural Alberta has more than its fair share of brains to the control of the contro and good sense. It is to be hoped that in the forthcoming by-election Grouard voters will send the only possible farmer representative, Liberal candidate J. R. Desfosses, to the Legislature.

Seeding Crops

There are four essentials in obtaining a good stand of forage crops—good seed, moist soil, a firm seed bed, and shallow seeding—says J. E. Birdsall, Alberta supervisor of crop improvement. With moisture in most parts of Alberta in good supply, this appears to be a particularly good year to plant forage crops

Mr. Birdsall says that where land is in Mr. Birdsall says that where land is in good tilth and favorably located for moisture supplies, it may be cultivated this spring and then seeded to forage early in June, along with a nurse crop of grain.

In the dry areas, very early seeding in summerfallow is the recommended practice, and a nurse crop should not be used since all the moisture is needed for the forage.

How Fast Is An Escalator?

Moving stairways in New York City (a good place to investigate them) are limited by law to the speed of 125 feet a minute. The Magazine of the speed of 125 feet a minute, the Magazine of Building reports. That's a seeming saul's pace of about a mile and a half an hour. In the London subways at rush hour they hit two miles an hour, and that speed may become general in this country. Department store escalators are often made to move more slowly, say 90 feet a minute. #### U.S. Army's New and Secret Tank

By E. H. SIMS

Very probably the biggest question in most American minds, about the quality of U.S. military equipment, has centred around tanks. In Korea, last summer, the Army was suddenly asked to fight a war, and it threw its only tanks nearby into the fight. They were training tanks, used for that pur-They were known as Chaffees. pose, in Japan.

pose, in Japan. They were known as Chaffees.

Naturally they did not stack up well with Russian-made T-34 tanks. However, the new medium tank, the Patton, has done a good job in Korea, and the Army thinks it is more than a match for the T-34. In one battle 16 Pattons knocked out 16 T-34s, without the loss of a single tank. The Patton is an improvement over the World War II medium, the Pershing.

The new light tank to replace the Chaffee will

The new light tank to replace the Chaffee will contain more radical improvements than the Patton.

The first ones will come off the production lines this spring. In the heavy tank field, the Army is not trying to build a big tank, but to build a tank capable of carrying a gun big enough to do its job, while maintaining mobility. Even the heavies are to be able to cross bridges a division can build. These tanks will begin coming off production lines some months after the new light tank.

Perhaps the new light tank is the apple of the Army's eye. It is a military secret, but should carry surprisingly potent fire-power on a light, maneuverable chassis. Many believe it will be a match for enemy mediums.

The high criticism of the Army in the control of the control of the Army in the control of the Army

The big criticism of the Army in the past is that it has always had the best tanks in the world, on the drawing board, and the worst on the battlefield. Under-Secretary of the Army Alexander said this month we will get into new tank production on a good scale in nine months. These tanks will be the best in the world, he stated.

Alexander also said that the construction of Alexander also said that the construction of high and low silhouettes was demonstrative of democracies and dictatorships. Russia's low tank is hard on even small men, and a death trap for the entire crew, he said. While Alexander may have a good point there, crities have voiced a belief something could be designed to meet both safety and difficult target demands.

The T-34, which our Pattons seemed to have mastered is not the nevest or best Russian tank.

Bible Doesn't Support Flat-Earth Theory

Contrary to popular but uninformed belief, the Bible does not support the view that the world is flat, Carl S. Wise points out in Science. The Bible, however, he says, does have "a num-

The Bible, nowever, he says, does have "a number of passages concerning the shapes and conditions of the world, past, present, and future. To name but a few, giving scriptural texts:

"1. At one time . . . the earth had no definite shape at all, either flat or round (Gen. 1: 2—And the earth was without form and void. . . .)

"2. The earth is suspended in an etheral vacuum and is part of a universe of immeasurable size Furthermore, any attempt to detect the presence of a supporting medium, such as the Michelson-Morley ether-drift experiment, will give a pull Morley ether-critt experiment, will give a pul-answer (Job 26: 7—He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing; Jer. 31: 37—Thus saith the Lord; if heaven above can be measured, and the founda-tions of the earth searched out beneath, I will cast off all the seed of Israel for all they have done, saith the Lord).

saith the Lord).

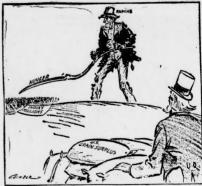

"3. A particularly striking picture is given by Job concerning the rotation of the earth. To understand it, one must be aware of the type of seals stand it, one must be aware of the type of seals used by ancient peoples such as Babylonians, Phoenicians, etc. These seals, perforated longitudinally and rotating upon a tiny axle of some hard material, were pressed against the face of the damp clay and rotated. As the seal was tupned in the clay, it left its inscription. In like manner our earth is journeying on her annual arbital resolution. At the same time the planet is spinning. our earth is journeying on her annual arbital revolution. At the same time the planet is spinning revolution. At the same time the planet is spinning on its axis, turning in the face of the sun like the seal in the face of the clay (Job 38: 14—It is turned as clay to the seal; . . . .).

give the shopper time enough to develop the buying urge.

But don't despise the moving stairway slow-poke. An escalator less than a yard wide and moving at 125 f.p.m. can carry 580 people in five minutes—a job that it would take thirteen 2,500pound capacity elevators to equal. As a result, moving stairways may more and more replace elevators in medium-height buildings.
